Provide eyelash and eyebrow treatments
Eyelash and eyebrow treatments are some of the most satisfying treatments to carry out, and their popularity among male clients is also growing. You will learn how to assess the client's natural eyebrow and advise them on the most suitable shape, taking into account their face shape, existing eyebrow shape and hair density. Tweezing away the hairs may result in a dramatic enhancing of the eyes. You will also learn how to use permanent colour to define brows and lashes, giving the appearance of longer and thicker lashes. Other treatments are also covered in this unit, including threading, semi-permanent make-up and lash perming.

What does it mean?

Some useful words are explained below

Conjunctivitis

A nasty eye condition where the eyes are red, swollen and sticky.

Contaminated waste

Consumables that have been soiled with bodily fluids. This type of waste requires special disposal methods.

Contra-action

An unfavourable reaction that may occur either during or after the treatment, eg skin swelling or excessive erythema.

Erythema

Redness of the skin due to the blood vessels bringing blood to the surface.

Eye shields

These can be damp half-moons of cotton wool or pre-prepared pads used to protect the eye area from tint.

False lash application

The use of strip or flared lashes that are applied to the client for a special occasion, usually lasting for the evening or if treated carefully, a week.

Hydrogen peroxide

A chemical that is mixed with the tint to activate the colour.

Ice packs

Cold compresses, either flannel, damp cotton pads, or ice wrapped in a small towel. All are used to calm an irritated area.

Lash extension

Advanced technique used to lengthen the client's eyelashes. An individual false lash is attached to an existing lash and will last for up to six weeks.

Patch test

A test carried out 24 hours before the treatment to see if the client is allergic to the tinting products.

Sterilisation

The process of destroying all micro-organisms and their spores.

Stye

A small infection at the base of the eyelash follicle; it is red, sore and swollen.

Threading

A specialised method of hair removal using the swift action of fingers, thumbs and tight thread.

Warming devices

These may be steam, hot flannels or hot, damp pads that are used to open the hair follicles to make the removal of the hairs easier.

Revision tip

If the eyebrow hairs are thick and coarse, apply a hot compress to each brow for a few minutes. This will open up the follicles, making the hair removal easier and less painful.

Eyelash and brow tinting is great for mature clients with fine lashes or when their natural colour has faded. It defines the eye area, giving the appearance of mascara.

Eyelash extensions can create a dramatic effect.

Brow shaping can create a dramatic change to a client's eyes but it is important to do this in stages. I always ask my client to check in the mirror to make sure they are happy before I remove more hairs.

Lashes and

Consider the whole look of your client before you treat lashes and brows.

Strong sunlight can easily fade tinted lashes and brows so advise your client on the use of sunglasses.

and brows

Threading is an alternative to waxing on the eyebrow area.

Always check that the client has had a recent skin test and that the result was negative and recorded before giving an eyelash or brow tint.
