Family Life

TIME FOR GAMES

It's Monday night at Jason's house. Jason is playing a video game. His sister is sending a text message on her mobile phone. Their parents are on their laptops. The family are in the same room but not doing things together. Jason thinks they could spend the time playing games.

A family games night can be once a week. It's also a good idea to have a games night when it's cold or raining outside.

Playing games together can be a fun activity for everyone.

Next week... Summer Family Fun
